VISIONARY DOCUMENTARY “ASSEMBLY” PREMIERES ON PBS’S INDEPENDENT LENS JUNE 22, FUSING ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE WITH GLOBAL BLACK QUEER EXPRESSION

Internationally Acclaimed Artist Rashaad Newsome Creates an Immersive Exhibition That Combines Technology, Voguing, and Community To Reimagine Art and Identity

(San Francisco, CA) April 27, 2026—Following artist Rashaad Newsome as he creates a visionary exhibition exploring the evolution of Black and queer culture through contemporary voguing, “Assembly” will premiere June 22, 2026, on PBS’s INDEPENDENT LENS. The film is a melting pot of voices, histories, visions, and technology, demonstrating how art can serve as both a mirror to society and a tool for liberation.

Preparing to unveil “Assembly,” a groundbreaking, large-scale multimedia exhibition at New York’s Park Avenue Armory, Newsome, a Black queer artist from the American South transforms the 55,000-square-foot hall through video projections, holograms, and dynamic collaborations between dancers and musicians. In blending visual art, performance, and artificial intelligence, he showcases the global evolution of voguing while honoring Black and queer resistance and calling for a more liberated future.

“Assembly captures the transformative power of creativity to help a fractured community find strength, solidarity, and liberation,” said Lois Vossen, INDEPENDENT LENS Founding Executive Producer. “Unconventional and unprecedented, this documentary reflects the series’ commitment to share diverse perspectives, and highlights artistic expression as a way to preserve culture and explore identity.”

Newsome retraces his own path, from his Louisiana childhood to his exploration of the early-2000s ballroom scene. As a multidisciplinary artist traveling to museums worldwide, Rashaad witnesses voguers integrating regional dances into their movements and demonstrating the fluidity of the art form. Formed in resistance to racism and homophobia, voguing flourishes within new cultural contexts.

Rehearsals for “Assembly” unite performers from Brazil, Japan, Senegal, and Ukraine, dancing alongside the descendants of legendary voguers. Rashaad’s artistic vision confronts patriarchy, imperialism, and white supremacy and inspires patrons to envision a more equitable future together. “Assembly” moves beyond the bounds of a traditional documentary, interlacing Newsome’s creative process with electrifying performances and the lived experiences of his collaborators.

“Assembly” will premiere on PBS’s INDEPENDENT LENS on June 22, 2026, (check local listings) and will be available to stream on the PBS app and PBS Documentaries YouTube Channel.
